University Men Urged To Aid Reconstruction
America Must Save the Starving of Europe, Dr. Mott Tells Cornell Students
ITHACA, N. Y., June 22.—An appeal to graduates of Cornell and other universities to throw themselves into the work of post-war reconstruction was voiced by Dr. John R. Mott, general secretary of the Young Men's Christian Association War Work Council, in a baccalaureate sermon delivered to the Cornell graduating class here to-day. Dr. Mott is a member of the Cornell class of '88.

"America," said Dr. Mott, "is expected to take a chief part in the financial and commercial adjustments following the war—to bind up the broken threads of a world starving. We are going to busy ourselves with this, and it means that there must come from Cornell an unprecedented offering of lives, because of the depletion of our 200 dead, but if we had the proportions of Oxford and Cambridge, it would have been 3,000 or more.

"America is charged to lend itself to the reconstruction task that involves the entire world, and there is need for men and women, real leaders, to throw themselves into the struggle.

A statue of Ezra Cornell, founder of Cornell University, was unveiled on the campus this morning. President Charles D. Clark, Dr. T. P. Crane and Miss Mary Cornell, daughter of the founder, spoke briefly.

U. S. Court Asked To Decide Bridge Fight to Continue

Job Hedges Seeks Increased Fares Over Williamsburg Structure or Discontinuance of Company Lines
The problem of continuing car service over the Williamsburg Bridge has been shifted to the United States District Court. Job E. Hedges, receiver of the New York Railway Company, has applied to Judge Mayer for instructions. The hearing is docketed for Wednesday.

Agreements between the city and the traction companies involved have expired. The receiver says that continued operation of cars on the bridge is causing the New York Railway Company a loss of $250,000 a year, and that the question of discontinuing the service or obtaining an increase of revenue sufficient to remove danger of further involving the traction companies is before the court.

Mr. Hedges said yesterday in relation to his application for the court's guidance that the last of the permits expired June 1, since which time the Brooklyn Railway Company, which owns the bridge, has refused to continue the present arrangement under a new six months' permit. He said that if the New York Railway Company were to discontinue the arrangement it would save immediately at least $127,000 a year. In this connection he asserts that during the six months' permit the New York Railway Company lost more than $80,000 a day, failing to meet interest on its first mortgage bonds.

Mexican Congress Busy

Discussing New Labor Act
MEXICO CITY, May 22.—With the extraordinary session of Congress still considering the labor law, after having completed the third week of its life, rumors are plentiful that neither the nationalization legislation nor the national bank of emission legislation will be considered before the session is adjourned.

Hardly more than two score of the 300-odd provisions of the labor law have been discussed in the Chamber of Deputies, and the debate shows no signs of lessening warmth.

Representative legislation, which companies and banking institutions, which are vitally interested in the proposed legislation, are found in force in the capital and are using every effort to secure modifications of the proposed laws.

U. S. Court Asked To Decide Bridge Fight to Continue

Job Hedges Seeks Increased Fares Over Williamsburg Structure or Discontinuance of Company Lines
The problem of continuing car service over the Williamsburg Bridge has been shifted to the United States District Court. Job E. Hedges, receiver of the New York Railway Company, has applied to Judge Mayer for instructions. The hearing is docketed for Wednesday.

Agreements between the city and the traction companies involved have expired. The receiver says that continued operation of cars on the bridge is causing the New York Railway Company a loss of $250,000 a year, and that the question of discontinuing the service or obtaining an increase of revenue sufficient to remove danger of further involving the traction companies is before the court.

Mr. Hedges said yesterday in relation to his application for the court's guidance that the last of the permits expired June 1, since which time the Brooklyn Railway Company, which owns the bridge, has refused to continue the present arrangement under a new six months' permit. He said that if the New York Railway Company were to discontinue the arrangement it would save immediately at least $127,000 a year. In this connection he asserts that during the six months' permit the New York Railway Company lost more than $80,000 a day, failing to meet interest on its first mortgage bonds.
